

Hospital & Healthcare

A Foreigner's Guide to Seeing a Doctor in Beijing (2026)

CDISCOVERY

<https://cdiscovery-community.netlify.app/>

A Foreigner's Guide to Seeing a Doctor in Beijing

(2026)

This guide walks you through the complete process of seeing a doctor at a Beijing hospital -- from booking your appointment to collecting your medication and insurance documents.

Step 1 -- Register and Choose a Hospital

* Open the

* Jingtong (京通)

* Mini Program in WeChat.

* Select

* Passport

* as your login method.

* Enter your passport information and log in.

* Tap

* Medical Services / Appointment Registration

* .

* Search for and select the hospital you want to visit.

* Choose:

* Department

* ,

* Doctor

* ,

* Date and Time

* .

* Confirm and submit your appointment.

Step 2 -- Get a Queue Number at the Hospital

- * Arrive at the hospital before your appointment time.
- * Use a self-service kiosk to:
 - * Scan your passport or appointment QR code.
 - * Print your registration slip / queue ticket.
- * Go to the department or floor shown on your slip.
- * Check in at the front desk or scan the department QR code.
- * Wait for your queue number to appear on the screen.

Step 3 -- See the Doctor

* Enter the consultation room when your number is called.

* Explain your symptoms to the doctor.

* The doctor may diagnose immediately, or order laboratory tests, imaging, or other examinations.

Step 4 -- Complete Lab Work (If Required)

Pay First

* Take the test order to a payment counter or self-service kiosk.

* Complete payment before testing.

Specimen Collection

* Go to the designated Specimen Collection Room.

* Present your payment receipt or QR code.

* Complete the required test (blood test, urine test, etc.).

Get Results

* Results are usually available within 30 minutes to a few hours.

* Print your report at a self-service kiosk using your QR code.

Step 5 -- Return to the Doctor

* Bring your test results back to the doctor.

* The doctor will review the results, confirm the diagnosis, and prescribe medication if needed.

* This is a good time to ask about dosage, side effects, and medication instructions.

Step 6 -- Get Medicine at the Pharmacy

Most hospital pharmacies are located on the 1st or 2nd floor.

Pay for Medication

- * Use a self-service kiosk or pharmacy counter.

- * Scan your prescription, confirm the medication cost, and complete payment.

Pick Up Medication

- * Wait for your number to be called.

- * Collect your medication at the pharmacy window.

- * Verify:

- * medication name

- * ,

- * quantity

- * , and

* instructions

* .

Step 7 -- Collect Documents for Insurance Claims

Before leaving the hospital, print and keep:

* Official receipts (发票)

* Payment records

* Laboratory reports

* Examination reports

* Prescription records

Many international insurance providers require original receipts, medical reports, and proof of payment for reimbursement.

Important Notes

- * Large hospitals in Beijing often have

- * International Medical Departments

- * or English-speaking staff.

- * China does not use a family doctor referral system. You can usually

- * book specialists directly

- * .

- * Most services require payment before treatment, testing, or medication.

- * International insurance is often reimbursed afterward, so

- * keep all documents

- * .

- * Always carry your original passport when visiting a hospital.

Simple Flow

Jingtong Login → Choose Hospital → Make Appointment → Get Queue Number → See

Doctor → Lab Work (if needed) → Return to Doctor → Pay and Collect Medicine → Print

Receipts and Reports

Sources: Sources: National Health Commission • Beijing Municipal Government

Beijing Municipal Government

CDISCOVERY

Community Topics Guide

<https://cdiscovery-community.netlify.app/>

Generated on June 8, 2026

Thank you for being part of the CDISCOVERY community.